Dear Master Yang:

Thank you for allowing our Independent Study group to visit your dojang last week. The students have made many comments about what a fantastic time they had. The parents particularly appreciated how you explained to their children the philosophy behind Shambhal, as well as taught them skills that will benefit them for a lifetime.

Field trips are a wonderful educational experience for students. These events create lasting memories for the students. They provide hands-on learning opportunities that cannot be duplicated in the classroom. Without your help, this student trip would not have been possible.

So on behalf of the students, thanks so much.

Sincerely,

Barbara Aguilar
Independent Studies Teacher
